INTRODUCTION

1942: Axis and Allied forces are heavily involved in World War II and the fighting has extended to four fronts: North Africa, the Pacific Theatre and hundreds of miles of frontlines in Eastern and Western Europe. As a newly-recruited soldier, your assignment changes on a moment’s notice – gunner, pilot, bombardier – and the scenery changes with it. Storm ground bunkers in the North African desert of El Alamein or position your battleship off the black sand shores of Iwo Jima. Run silent under the waters off Midway Island or drop your payload over key supply routes along the French-German border.

With up to 32 players in a single battle, you’ll need to keep your wits about you. All military vehicles are at your disposal from tanks, armoured personnel carriers and battleships to the P-51 Mustang and the U-boat.

We brought you the war, now it’s up to you to fight it!

COMPLETE CONTROLS

The incredible variety of gameplay in Battlefield 1942 puts you at the controls of tanks, jeeps, battleships, water transports, submarines and aircraft. You can also gut it out in the trenches with nothing more than a rifle, pistol and a knife.

Whether you are heading solo into the field or rendezvousing with your platoon, your first orders are to establish a player profile. This is your identity and it’s the first window that appears when you start Battlefield 1942.

- To create a player profile, type a name in the PLAYER NAME text box. This is your battlefield character name.
- With multiple profiles, multiple players can use the same computer with their own personalized settings.
- Type a name in the PROFILE NAME text box. This identifies your profile and is the name that appears on the profile button on the Main menu.
- Click NEW to add other profiles, or click USE to set up a game with your new profile.
- You can return to the Profile Setup menu anytime by clicking the Profile Name button in the upper right corner of the Main menu.

SINGLE PLAYER CAMPAIGN PLAY

Maverick blood runs through your veins and Single Player Campaign gets it pumping by handing you orders for 16 different missions inside the 1942 theatre of operations. Fight for either the Allied or Axis forces, either way the action is intense. Both sides are populated by soldiers commanded by Strategic Artificial Intelligence (SAI).

All elements are combined in Single Player play – planes, boats and tanks – so don’t let your guard down for a minute. The next bullet coming out of that bunker just might have your name on it.

Select the difficulty level, battle and your allegiance, then track your battle stats as you go.

START A NEW CAMPAIGN

Click SINGLEPLAY from the Main menu, and choose CAMPAIGN, then click the NEW CAMPAIGN tab to start a new Single Player Campaign.

Note: Default options are listed in bold type.

Difficulty Level EASY, NORMAL, HARD and IMPOSSIBLE categories are defined by three components: AI Skills, Player Death Ticket Penalty and Enemy vs. Friendly Units Ratio. The higher these ratings, the higher the difficulty level. Click and drag the indicator on each slider bar to make adjustments to each of the settings. Adjusting the slider bars is the only way to set the IMPOSSIBLE difficulty level.

AI Skills determine the fighting ability of non-playable characters (bots).

Player Death Ticket Penalty determines the number of tickets you are penalized each time you are killed during a mission.

Enemy vs. Friendly Units Ratio determines the number of troops in a battle for each side.

Number of Bots determines how many non-player characters populate each team, friendly and enemy. Note: Lower-end machines should try lowering this value if the frame rate is poor in single player mode.
CPU Time Given to AI determines how much of the CPU’s time is devoted to managing the AI. The higher this value is set, the more it impacts game performance. Note: Lower this value to get better frame rate if you are playing on a lower-end machine with few bots, or to get better AI performance if you are playing with many bots.

Levels. The Levels window shows all available maps. Only the first map is displayed when you are creating a new campaign.

Team. Select your team, ALLIED or AXIS.
• Click START after all of your selections are made.

CONTINUE A CAMPAIGN
Progress is automatically saved in Single Player Campaign Mode only after a battle is won. Your Profile is updated to reflect your progress.

Note: Your side does not have to win the battle in order to advance to the next level.

To continue a campaign:
1. Click the CONTINUE CAMPAIGN tab on the Single Player menu. The next level in the campaign is chosen automatically.
2. Click CONTINUE to begin the level.

CAMPAIGN SCORING
In every battle, there are victories, defeats and the stories that go along with those who live to tell them.

The Debriefing Screen appears at the end of each single-player battle. It explains the outcome of the battle and shows your battle stats. Fight with valour and you are recognised for your achievements. Medals are awarded for first, second and third place scoring. Battle honours are displayed to the right of your individual statistics. When you finish a mission while playing in Campaign Mode, you receive an overall score and evaluation for both the mission and the campaign. Individual missions modify the overall campaign score. A single mission defeat does not end a campaign, however losing too many battles will bring an end to the war early.
Whenever you finish a mission you have the option to accept the score and advance to the next mission, or replay it for a better score.

- To try for a better result/outcome in your most recent mission, click REPLAY.
- To return to the Campaign menu, click DONE.
- To proceed directly to the next campaign mission, click CONTINUE.

You can finish an entire campaign without winning every mission, but your final score will suffer from it.

Note: You can only save one campaign per profile. If you want to keep a number of parallel saved games on your hard disk you must create a new profile for each saved game.

SINGLE PLAYER CAMPAIGNS

Four fronts. Sixteen different battles. Multiple bomb-cratered, bullet-riddled, war-ravaged settings around the world for you to take your last, gasping breath, or create a victory for the generations.

- For complete weapon and vehicle descriptions, see www.battlefield1942.ea.com

THEATRE OF OPERATIONS

Pacific

In the Pacific theatre, Japan has incited a war against the Allied Forces that will be fiercely fought on land, sea and air. After its surprise attack at Pearl Harbor, the Japanese will strive to use the momentum of its early success to sweep to a quick victory in the Pacific. U.S. forces, on the other hand, will have to regroup quickly for what promises to be a long and bloody conflict against a highly determined and highly skilled enemy. From dense island jungles to the wide-open seas, both sides realise that every battle can turn the tide of this war and lead to ultimate victory in the Pacific.

North Africa

To win control in North Africa, the victor will not only have to defeat a well-prepared and determined enemy, but it will also have to overcome brutal desert conditions. Faced with intense heat and an inhospitable terrain, both sides will need supreme planning as much as anything else to emerge victorious in the African desert. As both the Axis and Allied armies push forward, supply lines will become an increasingly important factor in this war. Clearly, whoever can establish and protect the flow of fuel, water, food and ammunition will have a distinct advantage in the war in North Africa.

Eastern Europe

On the Eastern European front, German high command had fully expected its military machine to roll through the Russian Red Army in a matter of months. In preparation for this campaign, the Third Reich staged one of the biggest build-ups in the history of modern warfare. Unfortunately for the German commanders, they didn't count on the indomitable spirit of the Russian troops or the impenetrable Russian winter. German forces swept through the Russian defence with relative ease in the early stages but the tide soon turned with the onslaught of the harshest winter conditions imaginable. With both sides now contending with the same inhospitable environment, it will be the supreme test of endurance to see who can claim victory in Eastern Europe.

Western Europe
With nothing short of total victory as the goal, the Allied forces have commenced Operation Overlord – the final push toward Berlin. Beginning with a massive invasion on the beaches of Normandy, the Allies will not stop until they secure ultimate victory over the Fatherland. The German command, quickly realising that this is the massive assault they’ve been expecting, understand the importance of holding their ground at any cost. If German forces can withstand the Allied invasion at any point during this campaign, they know that ultimate victory will be within their grasp. Though it’s difficult to predict who’ll win this war, it’s easy to see that both sides will need to go to battle with a determination and fighting skill never before seen in the history of modern warfare.

MULTIPLAYER BATTLE

You and six buddies are hunkered in a trench while enemy rifle fire pours out of a nearby fortified bunker. You hear the telltale sound of Panzer tanks approaching, a sign that you just might not make it out of this mess alive. Suddenly, two Spitfires roar overhead, laying down lines of .50-caliber cover fire and creating your escape route. Pull out all the stops with grenades, machine guns, rockets and artillery fire. This is real war, where you and Battlefield 1942 enthusiasts from all over the world converge to form epic conflicts.

To begin, you must make a tactical decision whether to join or create a multiplayer game.
JOIN A MULTIPLAYER GAME

To Join a Multiplayer Game:
1. Click the MULTIPLAY button.
2. Click the LOCAL or INTERNET button. Either option displays a list of available servers, with columns for number of players, ping rate (the lower the number, the faster your connection to the server), game type (see Multiplayer Game Types on p. 18.) and map (level).

3. Click a server name, then click JOIN to start the game.

- In order to play a local game, you must be connected to a local area network. In order to play an Internet game, you must have an active Internet connection.
- During Internet setup, click REFRESH to renew the information on the current list of servers.
- During Internet and Local setup, click UPDATE to poll the Web for the most recent list of active servers.
- During Internet setup, click ADD SERVER to add a specific server to the list. You must know the IP address of the server you wish to add. Click JOIN to start a multiplayer game with this particular server, or click OK to add it and return to the server list.

CREATE A NEW MULTIPLAYER GAME

Create your own chapter in the Battlefield 1942 history book with a customised multiplayer battle. To begin, click the CREATE GAME button on the multiplayer menu to open the Create Game menu.
Server Name  Click inside the top text box and type any name (division, battalion, squadron, or infantry names are appropriate).

Max Players  Set the maximum amount of players allowed on the map. Note: Most maps have the ideal number of players for that map as the default.

Password  A password is required if you want to keep your game private, but it’s optional.

Round Time Limit  Enter the number of minutes a battle lasts within each selected level before the next level begins.

NR (Number) of Rounds  Set the number of rounds that are required to complete the entire multiplayer game.

Spawn Time  Set the number of seconds a player must wait after his character is killed before he rejoins the battle.

Game Start Delay  Enter the number of seconds before the start of each new level.

Tickets  This is a combined pool of points for each team that is depleted by team member deaths and lost vantage points.

Friendly Fire  Set the percentage of normal damage your teammates receive if you unintentionally shoot them. It can range from none to full damage.

Dedicated  Check this box to host your machine as a dedicated game server. You cannot play a game running on a dedicated machine. Players connecting to this type of server are likely to have a better quality of gameplay.

Axis vs. Allied Team Ratio  For greater realism, adjust the proportion of players that get assigned to either side.

AI Skills (Co-Op Only)  Set the fighting ability of non-playable characters (bots).

CPU-Time Given to AI (Co-Op Only)  Determine how much of the CPU’s time is devoted to managing the AI. The higher this value is set, the more it impacts game performance.

Levels  All 16 levels are displayed in the Levels window. Highlight a level, then click the RIGHT ARROW button to the right of the list. The level now appears in the far right window. Repeat to add multiple levels. Shuffle the levels using the UP/DOWN ARROW buttons above the new list. To remove a level, highlight it in the right window, then click the LEFT ARROW button.

Game Type  Select the type of multiplayer game (see Multiplayer Game Types on p. 18.)

- Click START LOCAL or START INTERNET when ready.
MULTIPLAYER GAME TYPES

There are four unique multiplayer game types, each with different objectives that require distinct strategies and tactics.

Conquest
The goal of Conquest mode is to reduce your opponent’s tickets to zero. The current number of tickets are shown above the mini-map. These tickets are a pool of lives shared by everyone on the same team. There are two ways to reduce an opponent’s pool of tickets: kill enemy soldiers or capture control points.

Control points
Control points have two purposes in Battlefield 1942. When a team controls a certain amount of control points on a map based on the mode (Assault or Head-On), the enemy team begins to lose tickets on a per-minute basis. Control points also act as spawn points allowing the side that owns it to re-spawn there, if desired. Some control points cannot be taken. These will be shown with a red circle around them in the mini-map.

Gaining control of a control point
When all players within a control point radius are on the same team, they gain control of that point. Once an enemy enters a spawn point radius the flag is disputed and no spawning can occur there until the issue is resolved.

Reinforcement
When a player dies, he must wait for a reinforcement wave to come before re-spawning. The re-spawn time is set and adjusted by the game host.

Assault vs. Head-On
Assault maps are organised so that one side acts as the attacker and the other side acts as the defender. The attacker loses tickets at the start of the game until they have taken one flag. The attacker wins automatically if they take all the flags. Head-On maps are organised so that both sides can act as the aggressor. The side that is in control of more than half of the flags on the map causes the opponent’s side to lose tickets.

Note: Base flags cannot be captured in Head-On maps.

Co-Op
Co-Op mode pits players against, or teams players with, AI-controlled bots. Players can join any side and are tied to the same rules as a normal Conquest game.

Team Death Match
A team melee game with the objective of minimising your team’s deaths while maximising your opponent’s.

Capture The Flag
Locate and capture the opponent team’s flag as many times as possible within the time limit. Once your opponent’s flag has been captured return it to your home base.
and touch the flagpole to score. Your side’s flag must be on the flagpole. If the flag is dropped en route to your home base, a friendly player can pick it up by running over it. If an enemy touches their dropped flag it is returned to the enemy base.

SCORING
A Debriefing screen appears after each Multiplayer game that shows the outcome of the battle. Each mission results in one of six ratings that are defined by the number of remaining friendly and enemy tickets:

PLAYING THE GAME
By volunteering for a Battlefield 1942 assignment, you admit your addiction to the sound of exploding artillery and the smell of a burning fuel depot. Mud and sweat are standard issue. And a good day is a day without casualties, unless they’re on the other side of the trenches.

BRIEFING SCREEN (CAMPAIGN ONLY)
Once you join a game, you are given a rundown of the battle situation. This includes information about the type of game, location and the countries involved.
• Click LOAD when you are prepared to enter combat.

SPAWN SCREEN
Allied Tickets
Shows the total number of Allied tickets remaining in the battle. Tickets are depleted by team deaths and by lost vantage points.

Axis Tickets
Shows the total number of Axis tickets remaining in the battle. Tickets are depleted by team deaths and by lost vantage points.

Troop Kit
Shows the number of active troops on your team, by kit: SCOUT, ASSAULT, ANTI-TANK, MEDIC, ENGINEER. (see Troop Kit below).

Map Display
Top down display of the combat operations. Icons show troop movements, as well as positions of tanks, planes and vessels. Axis troops are shown in red, Allied in blue. You can only see members of your own side as well as neutral vehicles (shown in gray).

Time To Spawn
Time remaining before you enter combat.

To Set Up Your Kit:
1. Click one of the troop kits.
2. Click a spawn point on the mini-map. Spawn points are indicated by white circles on the mini-map.
3. Click DONE.
   Note: Clicking CLOSE will not spawn you.

TROOP KITS
All soldier kits have combat responsibilities. Therefore, all are equipped with a knife, a pistol and a parachute for basic gear. After that, the equipment varies.

Scout
A frontline spotter for enemy troop and material movements. The Scout has two main abilities: sniping and artillery spotting (see Using Weapons and Other Items on p. 24). Additional equipment: scoped sniper rifle, grenades and binoculars.

Assault
Leads the way in executing the battle plan. Additional equipment: heavy machine gun and extra ammo.

Anti-Tank
You may only be on foot, but with your mobility and a shoulder-mounted rocket launcher, tanks beware. Additional equipment: bazooka, grenades.

Medic
The Medic’s main role is to heal his teammates. But he is also a good anti-infantry soldier. The submachine gun he carries has a nice rate of fire, but medium accuracy and penetration. A soldier in need of a Medic has an icon above his head showing he needs healing.

* To heal, select your Medikit then press Mouse Button 1 to use it. A progress bar appears that shows the healing status. If any hurt teammate is in your healing radius, he will be healed before you heal yourself.

- Additional equipment: Medikit, sub-machine gun and grenades.

Engineer

The Engineer has several purposes: mine laying/disarming, demolition and reparations (see Using Weapons and Other Items on p. 24). His rifle, even though it does not have a great rate of fire, has good range, precision and firepower. He has a dual-purpose, both defensive and offensive. He can plant explosives and landmines and repair all vehicles and stationary weapons. Additional equipment: standard rifle, demolition kit, mines, repair kit.

GAME SCREEN

This is where the men are separated from the boys. Enter the battlefield with your default weapon ready and the action in progress all around you.

Mini-Map Display

A mini version of the battlefield map. Your position is surrounded by a shaded circle. (see Navigation and the Mini-Map on p. 28).

Health Meter

Shows your amount of life remaining.

Kit

This symbol indicates your soldier status (Medic, Engineer, etc.).

Ammo Supply

The amount of ammunition remaining in your current weapon.

Inventory

Shows remaining number of ammo clips and grenades.

Battle Progress

Shows the number of tickets remaining for each side.

Other On-Screen Icons

Several icons appear on-screen during combat to keep you apprised of certain activity.

- Heal

  Indicates when first aid is available for healing.

- Repair

  Indicates when a vehicle is being repaired.

- Opened parachute

  Indicates your status as a paratrooper.
Neutral Outpost  Indicates when neither team is in possession of an outpost.

Outpost captured  Indicates a captured outpost.

Ammo  Indicates an ammo source is nearby

Forbidden flag  Indicates a flag that cannot be taken. This appears as a flag with a red slash through the icon.

Vehicle Status  Shows condition of the vehicle, aircraft or vessel whether you are driver, pilot or passenger.

USING VEHICLES, BOATS, SUBMARINES AND AIRCRAFT

Any soldier kit can operate all available vehicles, boats and aircraft in the game.

- To enter a vehicle, stand near it and press the E key.

  Note: You cannot use enemy aircraft carriers, destroyers, battleships or submarines. However, you can steal the aircraft off of the carrier and benefit from any ammo boxes or medical cabinets in enemy bases and control points. Once you enter a vehicle, the view changes to the position you’re currently in (driver, pilot, passenger, etc.). Controls are described in the Complete Controls section on p. 4. As a tank driver, you also control the main gun and turret. As a pilot, you control the plane, the forward machine guns and you act as bombardier. In certain trucks and jeeps, you drive and operate a mounted machine gun at the same time. In submarines, you act as the pilot and man the torpedoes.

- To exit a vehicle, press the E key.

- To parachute from an aircraft, exit the aircraft while it is airborne and press the 9 key.

USING WEAPONS AND OTHER ITEMS

Handheld weapons and items are carried at all times and can be switched easily.

To change your handheld weapon or item, press keys 1 through 6, or roll the mouse wheel UP/DOWN to highlight a weapon, then press Mouse Button 1 to select it.
Fire weapons by pressing Mouse Button 1.
Zoom view on most weapons by pressing Mouse Button 2.
Use the scope (scoped weapons only) by pressing Mouse Button 2.
Use items, such as mines, grenades, MediKits and binoculars by pressing Mouse Button 1.
Explosives require a three-step process to detonate. First place the explosives by pressing Mouse Button 1. Press Mouse Button 2 to activate the detonator. Then press Mouse Button 1 again to depress the plunger on the detonator.
To heal, stand near a first aid cabinet or kit (indicated by a first aid icon) until your health bar is 100%.
• Medics can use a Medikit on a wounded comrade to heal him (see Troop Kit on p. 22).
• To heal as a Medic, select your MediKit and press Mouse Button 1.
The firepower inside Battlefield 1942 includes a complete arsenal of light and heavy weapons, bombs and artillery for use on land, sea and air. Included are anti-aircraft machine guns, artillery batteries and both tower- and bunker-mounted machine guns. Machine guns and artillery are also mounted on APCs, tanks, boats and in the back of certain aircraft. Submarines fire torpedoes.
• To use artillery and land-based machine guns, step up to the gun and press the E key. You will need to go inside bunkered artillery emplacements first. Fire with Mouse Button 1.
• To use mobile-mounted machine guns and other weapons and material, first enter the vehicle, boat, or aircraft by pressing the E key, then press Mouse Button 1 to fire. Certain pilot and driver positions have no weapons.
Any soldier can man stationary weapons, like the Browning or the MG42. Stationary weapons have unlimited ammo, but they can overheat, which is represented graphically by a progress bar. It takes a few seconds for a machine gun to cool down. Only an Engineer can repair damaged stationary weapons and vehicles.
• To repair a damaged stationary weapon or vehicle, select the repair kit (spanner), then press Mouse Button 1.
• To remove a mine, select the repair kit (spanner), crouch by the mine and press Mouse Button 1.

Indirect Fire
Artillery has two modes of firing, one for aiming at short distances and indirect fire, which is directed by a Scout using a remote camera.
• To place a remote camera, activate the binoculars and press Mouse Button 1. The camera shows up on the mini-map and all artillery can use it to indirectly fire at the enemy. Each camera placement lasts 60 seconds (as long as the Scout is alive) or until he places another one.
An icon notifies the artillery gunner of the camera placement.
• To aim using the remote camera, press Mouse Button 2 to toggle between the normal in-game view and the camera view.
A tank icon represents the position of your artillery in relation to the target. This icon is placed along the circle around the target. The icon has also a rotation that shows the cannon angle towards the target.

If more than one camera is available, switch between them using the mouse wheel. Once you select a camera, press Mouse Button 1 or 2 to return to normal view.

The following chart details the positions associated with every usable element in the field. Certain pilot and driver positions have no weapon responsibilities.

NAVIGATION AND THE MINI-MAP

This is a smaller version of what you see on the Spawn screen. It appears as an inset in the upper right corner during combat. Use it to your navigational and tactical advantage.

Flag Icon
- Shows location(s) of Axis and Allied strongholds (villages, bunkers and bases). A flag that is marked with a red slash through it cannot be taken. In Capture the Flag mode, if a flag is captured, it will be shown moving on the mini-map.

Vehicle/Boat/Aircraft Icon
- Shows position of tanks, ships, boats and aircraft.

Troop Location
- Shows troop positions, Allied in blue and Axis in red. You will only see your troops on the mini-map.

Your Position
- The red or blue arrow surrounded by a shaded circle. The direction of the arrow shows the direction you are facing.

Grid Location
- Indicates your position on the overall map (the letter is latitude, the number is longitude).

TOOLTIPS

Tooltips are of great value during combat and can save lives, especially for rookie soldiers. Tooltips pop up whenever you near certain items in the field such as tanks, machine gun nests or any aircraft.

- Press the T key to toggle the Tooltips ON/OFF.

COMMUNICATIONS

Radio Commands appear along the top of the screen during combat and provide quick reference on which function keys execute specific radio communications. You can also label these command buttons for easier reference.

To activate the Radio Tooltips, press the F8 key. These buttons provide a quick reference to the menu of radio commands that are issued during battle.
MULTIPLAYER COMMUNICATIONS
There are a few options only available in Multiplayer combat that are vital to the communication with, and command of, your troops.

- To send a unique message to all players, both Allied and Axis, press the K key, then type your message and press the E key.
- To send a unique message only to your team, press the L key, then type your message and press the ENTER key.
- To issue a specific radio command, press the F1 through F7 keys.

SPAWN INTERFACE
There are a few key decisions to make during a break in the action.

- To bring up the Spawn interface, press the ENTER key. Press the ENTER key a second time to resume play.
- At this point, you may decide to change your soldier kit.
  - To select a different kit, click one of the five options along the left of the screen. Once you have made your decision, click DONE. The next time you spawn you will be equipped with your new kit equipment.
  - To re-enter combat with your new classification, click CLOSE.
  - If you are desperate, you can always click SUICIDE. Your team will then lose a ticket and you will be ready for the next spawn wave.
- Team Camera. If you press CLOSE you will float above the battlefield, either locked to one location or free to roam around (depending on the server setting). Pressing the C key will allow you to cycle through the camera perspective of all team members who are currently alive.

The Scoreboard
During combat, it helps to see the status and rankings of all teammates and opponents.

- To show the scoreboard during combat, press and hold the TAB key. This displays a list of all combatants, their kills, deaths and overall score.

BATTLEFIELD 1942: VEHICLES AND WEAPONS
In combat, you are equipped with weapons and vehicles manufactured by your team, Allied or Axis.

VEHICLE SPAWNING
Vehicles that are destroyed in combat will re-spawn at a base or near a control point. The exception is for boats that spawn at sea where they were first created. Aircraft carriers spawn planes on deck and Battleships spawn LCVPs attached to a side crane.
• To put an LCVP to sea, press the E key to enter the driver’s seat and press the W key. The LCVP will then drop into the water.

WEAPON DESCRIPTIONS
Weapons are available in each of five kits. You can change your kit while playing by walking up to a fallen soldier’s kit and pressing the G key.
• For a complete description of in-game weapons, please visit www.battlefield1942.ea.com

VEHICLE DESCRIPTIONS
Your missions take you across land, underwater, overseas and through the air. To be effective in battle you need the appropriate technology. The vehicles, aircraft and watercraft in Battlefield 1942 are designed for maximum all-out warfare, while maintaining the integrity of the originals as much as possible.
